To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter on behalf of Logan Nelson.

I have had the privilege of coaching Logan Nelson for two summer and two fall seasons. In this time, I have come to know him as both a player and a person. Logan's dedication, diligence, and exuberance is exemplified in his actions on and off the field. As a third basemen, he shows promising fundamentals to carry him to the next level. He has quick hands, a strong arm, great range, a powerful bat, and impressive speed. As a person, he has been an absolute pleasure to work with. He is the first to show up and the last to leave. He works hard in the weight room. He is always quick to lend a helping hand to his coaches and his teammates. He eagerly receives directions from his coaches and responds, respectfully, with "yes, coach" or "yes, sir." I believe these deeds and personal characteristics contribute to his success as a player. Respect for individuals carries over into his respect for the game. Logan puts in the necessary work that will help him in baseball and in life.

If you have any questions or would like any more information about Logan. Please do not hesitate to contact me at the below.

Best Regards
